CORBETT HAS NEW

Willing to Bet $5000 That Mysterious White Can

Whip Johnson. New York, July 23 .- The desire to see Jack Johnson beaten has become almost a mania with Jim Corbett and he has joined hands with Hugh Mc-Intosh, the Australian promoter, to find a white man who can put Johnson a white man who can part down for the count. The man has been down for the count. The man has been who picked and a challenge issued. Who bett will tell. In the challenge to Johnson, they call the man an "unknown" of-fering in behalf of the unknown to post a side bet of $5000, while McIntosh of-fers to stage the fight and offer a purse larger than that offered by any other

That they have confidence in their 'unknown" is shown by the fact that Corbett Is preparing to give up his theatrical engagements until the first week in October, to give scientific boxing lessons to the man and to supervise his general training.

McIntosh says in his challenge: "The 'unknown' will be named by James J. Corbett and will also be trained by him, the fight to take place in the United States, England or Australia and I agree to offer a purse greater than that offered by any other

"As an evidence of good faith, I am willing to deposit the sum of $5000 as a guarantee with Timothy Sullivan or any other responsible person. The same deposit to go as a side bet if "The only stipulation I make is that the contest be 20 rounds or over." In the event the offer is refused by Johnson Corbett and McIntosh leave it open to Sam Langford. Al Kaufman. Stanley Ketchel or any other fighter. It has been suggested that the "unknown" selected to take Johnson's honors away from him may be Bom-bader Wells, the new English heavyweight; Bill Lang, the Australian; Frank Gotch, the wrestling champion, or Con O'Kelly.

There seems little hope that Johnson will accept the challenge at least for a year. He recently turned down an offer of $75,000 made by McIntosh for a year's tour, including three fights with Sam Langford, Tommy Burns and Bill Lang as his opponents.

Fans Are Glad Old Standing Has Been Wiped Out; New Team Timber.

(By L. R. Crawford.)

Clifton, Ariz., July 23 .- The ominous clouds that last week seemed to threat-en disruption to the Cactus league, have cleared away and left the league on an apparently stronger footing than here-

The meeting at Douglas to straighten out the tangled meshes of the league marks another upward step by the pro-gress of baseball in the southwest, in the willingness of the managers to submit their difficulties to arbitration. The first real danger that threat-ened the league seems to have been quickly and satisfactorily settled and, looking back, was probably a good thing, for the present schedule seems to be better balanced. The general inclination since the start of the season has been towards organization. At present actual organization seems impossible in the camps where teams are supported by popular sub-scription. On two or three games a week the camps cannot support salaried teams and as is the case with most of them the players work during the week. Still the troubles that have assailed the different clubs and made the managers realize the necessity of working together may eventually accomplish the seemingly impossible, as they all seem to be pointing the way towards organized ball.

Clifton and Morenci sent no representative to the meeting as they had already announced the cause of their dissatisfaction and their willingness to stick with the majority. They stood pat, leaving their interests in the hands of Vic Walling.

As for the new arrangements, Clifton of course derives the greatest benefit, by returning all the other clubs to the zero mark and making a fresh start. The prospect has fired both fans and players with a new enthusiasm that should make them strong contenders.

A bazaar or fair is already being contemplated to raise funds for the team as the early reverse of the club set it back financially as well as in the perback finances... centage column.

A telegram was received from Pittsburg today that Mcliveen is en route for Clifton. He had been expected here for the past two weeks, but had been delayed. Mac will immediately take charge of the team. He should arrive in Lordsburg Friday night or Saturday morning, and if necessary the fans will meet him with a motor car to get him here in time for Saturday's game with Morenci, which is the opening atraction of the new schedule.
